from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula, Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a treatise on Scrofulous Affections. "THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.
CONSUMPTION,
which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

"LAND AND LABOR."

AN ADDRESS DELIVERED BY LT. GOV. C. F. BLACK.

The following address was delivered by Lieutenant-Governor C. F. Black, at the Grangers' picnic, at Williams Grove, August 27th, 1884. On the day of its delivery it had been announced that he would speak, and long before the appointed hour the seats were all occupied, and many were compelled to stand when he appeared. After a few introductory remarks he began his address and was listened to with undivided attention throughout. He said:

About one year ago the young governor of this commonwealth stood where I now stand, in presence of a similar assemblage of Pennsylvania's sturdy people. A pure man, a just magistrate, an honest friend of labor, you heard him not merely with the respect due to his high office, but with that due to his own character. I trust it will not be deemed unbecoming in me to recall the tribute, characteristically simple, but very eloquent, paid by him to one of your number whose mortal remains were that day borne to an honored grave amid the hills of York. The good husbandman of whom he spoke was my father. Never heart beat truer to human cause than his to yours. Through the later years of his life its importance grew in his wiser contemplation, and his mature faculties were more and more bent to the task of supporting it. When the power of those who regarded not the piercing cry which under-paid labor and swindled industry put in all the four corners of the commonwealth was at its height; when politicians were dealing most softly with the wrongs of unorganized workingmen, and dreading most of all the displeasure of associated capital; when party conventions were silent concerning the real needs of the people and the door of the party caucus was shut to your petition, this untitled and unpaid tribune of the land tillers and the wage-earners lifted up an almost solitary voice, which even I, without immodesty, may say, never failed to command and to compel attention at least. He counted no odds in a contest for right.

He was a Patron. Together we joined the Order many years before this great annual concourse of farmers and farmers' friends had made the name honorable and taught the timid and the doubting to respect the vast but orderly force behind your cause if they did not respect the cause itself. A few months before his death he answered the urgent appeal of the president of the Farmers' Alliance to be with them in national convention in this telegraphic dispatch: "I am prevented by a painful and serious accident from being with you to-day. But he assured that as long as I live I shall give what feeble aid I can for justice to land and labor. I hope you will speak plainly to-day and let all the world know that you do not lack gall to make oppression bitter." His thought and his purpose are mine; they are mine by natural inheritance and mine by deliberate choice. In my brief public career they have been to me the touchstone of principle and the rule of action, for I believe that justice to land and labor implies justice to all the members of the society, however situated or however employed.

JUSTICE TO LAND AND LABOR.

But what is justice to land and labor? This is a question easily asked and easily answered in general terms. The political philosopher will say, and say truly, that land and labor must be placed upon an equality with all other industries, whether of trade, transportation or manufacture; that each is entitled to enjoy what it earns and each must yield to government in the form of taxes its just proportion of whatever may be necessary for the security of the whole. But when the legislator comes to frame this just proposition into law, he finds in his way so many artificial arrangements, under which have grown up so many powerful interests, and such a multitude of profitable abuses, that he stands appalled and helpless before the task he has set himself. He is opposed by combinations of accumulated capital, by great interests perfectly organized, by talents of the highest order that money can command. But where does he look for support? To the millions, straining every aching nerve to provide for the day that is passing over? To the miner in the cavern? To the lumberman in the forest? To the ploughman in the field? To the myriad men in shop, and forge and mill? These trust to the honor of their public representatives. They have no means to set up separate agencies for their protection. It is well, if under the hard conditions which adverse legislation imposes they can live. Combination among them is difficult and expensive. Corporations, monopolies, associated capital, railroads, manufacturers, coal operators, mill owners, iron lords—these all co-operate. They limit production and so limit labor; they shut down and throw labor out; they fix wages and labor must accept or starve; competition ends in agreement or pooling, and thus extorts a double tribute where one was levied before. Above all they combine to control your Legislatures, State and National, and when the lobbies swarm with their agents, and the committees listen with profound attention to their brilliant advocates, who appear for the multitude which the privileged few thus part between themselves?

THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Look at our own State. It is now more than a decade since the reform constitution was ordained by an immense majority of the people. Yet some of its most important provisions are to this hour a dead letter. Are taxes uniform, equal and just? When Worthy Master Rhone and Brother Piollet came down to the Legislature at the last regular session they found that two private citizens and a Governor might make a very impressive presentation of a just cause, but they could not pass a law. It will be less difficult when the subject has been discussed a few years in Grange rooms farmers' clubs—when the land owners and land workers have combined as extensively as the other interest concerned—and when the Ways and Means Committee shall contain a larger sprinkling of clear headed and well-backed farmers. Again: Dare your Legislature lay its hand upon the brood of giant corporations, endowed with life, privilege and power by this Commonwealth, and bring them under obedience to the XVIIth article? They are but public agencies created for a public purpose. They were designed to fetch and carry for the people. But what do we see? They take the produce of the West to market through the heart of this Commonwealth, using the grants made by us to do so, at rates ruinous to our own production, impoverishing our farmer, and causing a shrinkage in the aggregate value of our lands beyond calculation. They make one rate to one man and a different rate to another. They make one rate to one community and a different rate to another. They build up here; they destroy there. They follow but one rule that seems to be fixed—and that is steady, constant, cruel discrimination against the local trade of the State to the full extent of the rule of "taking all the traffic will bear." I believe that the direct tax upon our domestic industries, and upon the necessaries of life, arising out of these unjust and unlawful discriminations against our people amount in the grand total to more than all our other taxes, local, State and national, put together. And what is the remedy? What is that strange revolutionary demand which the sovereign people who, originally, granted a small portion of their power to these corporations, make? It is no great matter. They only ask that after a dozen years of notice and of preparation, that article of the constitution which solemnly forbids these wrongs shall be put in operation. But when a venerable citizen went up to Harrisburg at the regular session and argued the case of the people against the corporations, he found himself nearly as solitary as Brothers Rhone and Piollet when they were down about the tax revision. Nobody could answer him. The constitution, the law and the truth were with him. But when he retired came a great procession of railroad presidents, directors, attorneys and other skilled and trained servants, confusing committees with the legerdemain of figures and other railroad mysteries, showing how our fundamental law was a failure and a folly, impracticable and worthless and how five millions of freemen, having created a set of irresponsible corporate monsters must continue forever to writhe under their hoofs.

MONOPOLY WILL NOT LAST.

But this will not last. These great corporations, by which public interests are in a large degrees committed to private control, are comparatively new; but both abroad and at home inquiry and experience are gradually settling the true principles upon which they are to be managed. The railroad manager will not always baffle the statesman. When the people of Pennsylvania come to realize that the tremendous power of taxation has long been and is now practically exercised by interested boards of directors, responsible to nobody but those interested like themselves, and that that power is used irregularly, lawlessly and capriciously, they will find the way to reduce their common carriers to the government of fixed law. Your present governor has not minced these matters. His messages have gone straight to the heart of the subject. But assemblymen, with their wallets stuffed with passes, were utterly shocked by the radicalism of his startling recommendation that the Constitution should be enforced by "appropriate legislation." Would we cripple railroads? Not at all. The real interests of the owners of railroad property correspond with those of the State and people. The local traffic within our borders contributes eleven-twelfths of their profits and taxing it to death to maintain their destructive "foreign wars" is ruinous to them as it is to us. They were created to do our business and they must do it according to law; that is the proposition now, and in a few years will be the fact. Would the farmers, would the workingmen, would the many citizens of Pennsylvania, engaged in small industries, who complain of the capricious tyranny of the transporters, infringe a contract or disturb a vested right? We know too well that upon the sacred maintainance of the rights of property depends the whole fabric of society, including the title to our lands, and to the enjoyment of our earnings when they are least. It is the small accumulations which are eaten up by the large ones, when the restraints of law are relaxed, and this is precisely the process which is going on under the prevailing disregard of fundamental principles by the corporations. It is ever the few who break over the limits of the contract which organized society makes with all its members, in order that they may gather and devour the earnings of the many. We stand for law; it is our only shield. They assail it: it is their only restraint.

It is true that the wealth of this country is almost too great to be compassed by human imagination, as has recently been exhibited by a very cunning and most dazzling array of figures. But who possesses it? Those whose labor primarily created it? The ten, twenty and hundred millionaire corporated monopolists, or the many thousands of workmen, cast at the same moment out of employment and out of home? We have vast accumulations of wealth in a few places and in a few hands, and this is the sad result of the artificial arrangements of class legislation. We are rich but not prosperous. Nature and justice, wise laws, insuring to every man that which he earns or that which he produces, excepting the small portion required for the public service, would never have permitted this extraordinary distribution of the common produce of the great hive of North American industry.

LAND AND LABOR MUST ORGANIZE.

Until land and labor organize for their own protection, and the intelligent support of their own interests, they must expect to suffer as heretofore. The policy of our laws has not sufficiently favored combinations of artizans and manual laborers for a common management of common concerns. Arbitration, just in principle, is almost mockery while labor is unincorporated while either party may refuse the judicial test, and while the employer retains the right to cut wages, to shut down and to turn out of house and home, without notice. Farmers, on the other hand, have simply neglected their duty in this respect. The Grange an organization erected after the beautiful model of our federal system, is almost, if not quite, perfectly adapted to their purpose. Why should they not use it? If it be said they are widely scattered and accustomed chiefly to the solitary life of the fields and the secluded homestead, it is answered that these circumstances furnish the very strongest reasons for regular and stated association together. When the Declaration of Independence was about to be signed a delegate said, 'Come, let us all hang together." "Yes," responded Dr. Franklin, "for if we don't, we'll all hang separately." That case is yours precisely.

Our forefathers believed that our republican institutions would remain pure and secure so long as they rested mainly upon the broad shoulders of an agricultural population. "This reliance," said Mr. Jefferson, "cannot deceive us as long as we remain virtuous and I think we shall be so as long as agriculture is our principle object, which will be the case while there remain vacant lands in any part of America. When we get piled upon one another in large cities, as in Europe we shall become corrupt as in Europe, and go to eating up one another as they do there." Alas, how narrow the ken of the wisest of mortals! When the eye of the patriot sage scanned the wide expanse of our fertile territories, when again he doubled them by the splendid Louisiana purchase, he thought he could pierce the dim future and see them occupied by countless millions of thrifty, independent and incorruptible men. who would keep the covenant of liberty forever. But how different the reality from the golden dream of the prophet! Empires have been carved from those lands, and given to corporations, adding new strength to the already powerful combinations of monopolies. The railroad monopolist forces himself into partnership with every tiller of those bountiful fields, and takes from him well nigh the last cent of profit before he will consent to remove his produce. The small farms are covered with mortgages, and the usurer awaits his opportunity. Already, even in this the most independent of human occupations, the individual man is receding, and associated capital farms great tracts—thousands and hundreds of thousands of acres—with armies of enlisted laborers and innumerable machines.

Men of Pennsylvania, is it not full time to think, to consult, to unite and to act?

From Lt. Gov. Black's Letter Accepting the Nomination for Governor, Sept. 16, 1886.

"During the past year Pennsylvania, in common with many other States, has felt profoundly, and to her sore cost, the throes of labor madly seeking the betterment of its condition, with the redress of wrongs known to exist, the remedies for which are but vaguely understood. The losses inflicted by these recurring struggles are simply tremendous and incalculable. They fall heavily upon all classes, and upon none more heavily than the workingmen themselves. Must they go on forever? Such wide tumults among men ordinarily sober and industrious, such vast sacrifices of bread and peace by multitudes of intelligent and orderly citizens, are not without grave cause. I believe they will cease, and cease only when the wage-earner is placed upon the dead level of legal equality with the wage-payer, at every stage and in every particular of the several transactions between them. Men of conservative minds have witnessed the beneficial results of the progress of labor in self-organization, with intense satisfaction. Such organization, completed and perfected, promises apparently justice, order, and repose to all the interests concerned. Why not give to it the sanction of the law and the protection of the State?

"Incorporation may prove to be the simple but beneficial expedient of which all modern society appears to be in common search. The remedy for all public and private wrongs must be in the law; and industry organized under the law, and with the protection of the law that is given to capital, would find its own safety in the just restraints of the law, which make the rights of persons and property sacred under our free institutions.

"Like the men who work for daily or weekly wages, the agricultural people, with even less excuse for the dereliction, have neglected the care of their own interests; and by reason of protracted failure to employ the necessary instrumentalities of mutual organization and representation in the government, they find the burdens of the State resting more heavily upon their fields than upon any other form of property of equal value. While their lands are depreciated, and their produce undersold in their own markets, in consequence of discriminations against local freights, the revenue and tax laws are made to bear upon them with undue and excessive exactions."

Firemen Years Ago.

In the days of the old Philadelphia Volunteer Fire Department the member of the company who arrived first at headquarters and received possession of the horn was privileged to direct the movements of the other men at the fire. There was naturally always a great rush to obtain this coveted honor and many are the stories told of how all sorts of schemes were devised to get in ahead. A prominent citizen relates that one night, returning home rather late, he heard the old State House bell peal out an alarm of fire. His company had just been presented with a new horn and every man was ambitious to be the first to use it. It had been hung beneath the machine, and as he was not far from the engine house, his hopes danced high as he thought that he would be the first to arrive and get possession of it. On reaching the spot what was his amazement to discover a fellow-member there before him! Already he was under the engine and the horn was certainly his. A glance, however, showed him that the fellow was sound asleep. Stealthily he reached over the prostrate figure and secured the shining bit of brass. Then he gave a shout that awoke the echoes as well as the sleeper, whose disgust at the way his plan had miscarried can be better imagined than described.

THE STAGE.

Fay Templeton has gone to Europe.

Kate Claxton has played Louise over 1,000 times.

Lillian Olcott thinks she has a fortune in "Theodora."

Joseph Jefferson is collating his notes for an autobiography.

Effie Ellsler has begun the second season of "Woman Against Women."

Mrs. D. P. Bowers' new play will be entitled "The Empress Josephine."

Tony Hart is about to go on the road in an Irish comedy by H. Wayne Ellis.

Mrs. Langtry is going south shortly, and will finish her season in New Orleans.

Lord Lonsdale has already served notice of a libel suit upon a Philadelphia paper.

Adelaide Randall and her Bijou Opera company are doing well in the south.

Emma Abbott opens the new $75,000 opera house at San Antonio, Tex., on Dec. 20.

The receipts of "Erminie" at the Globe theatre, Boston, for one week were over $8,500.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has taken Valparaiso by storm, her receipts being over $5,000 a night.

Jefferson is playing a very short season and limiting his engagements to the principal cities.

Texas audiences now express their disgust at bad shows with "chestnut" bells, which are better than pistols.

Edwin Booth has been playing a phenomenal engagement in Chicago, where he has turned people away nightly.

The resemblance between Wilson Barrett and John McCullough is remarked by thousands who have seen the English tragedian.

Kansas City has at last, in the vocabulary of the "road," become a week stand. Several leading attractions are booked there for that period.

The Madison Square theatre, New York, will be closed from Oct. 25 to Nov. 1, when A. M. Palmer's company will begin their season.

"The Scapegoat" not having proved, strictly speaking, a success in the east, Mrs. Chanfrau is thinking of trying it in San Francisco or Australia.

Modjeska's new play, to be produced this fall in New York, is "Daniela." It is written by William Von Sachs, a young society man of that city.

The Cincinnati opera festival is announced for week of Nov. 22 at the Music hall in that city. The American Opera company will be the attraction.

Gustave Amberg denies the report that he intends to give up the Thalia theatre in New York. He thinks there is a lot of money in German comedy yet.

Dixey has had Joseph Tabrar construct for him a new burlesque of "Faust," in which he will present an elaborate caricature of Henry Irving's Mephistopheles.

Genevieve Ward and Mr. Vernon, her leading man, have on their list "Nance Oldfield," which is said to be a charming comedy of the wig and ruffle kind.

London is undoubtedly the best city in the world for long runs. It is estimated that there are 800,000 regular theatregoers in the city and 30,000 visitors every day.

Mme. Janish will be managed by David Peyser for the tour of the country. She has a couple of new plays and a several times multiplied couple of fresh Parisian costumes.

Louis Aldrich's season does not begin until the coming month. He will play "My Partner" for the first ten weeks and then produce a new piece, the name of which has not yet been given.

W. J. Florence recently received a shaking up at Atchison, Kan., by the curtain descending upon him while he was attempting to rescue a bandbox that was rolling toward the footlights. The thickness of his wig saved him from serious injury.

Manager A. M. Palmer, of the Madison Square theatre, New York, is regarded as the best judge of actors and acting in the country. It is said of him that he has snuffed out more would-be stars than any other manager in New York, but on the other hand, the excellence of his companies is evidence that he is quick to perceive and reward talent.

Before Henry E. Abbey went back to England he gave these figures from his books to indicate to what extent American people have paid to see celebrated actors under his management: Bernhardt, in 1880-1, $396,247; Booth, in '81-2, $280,000; Patti, '81-2, $239,890; Nilsson, '82-3, $208,309; Langtry, '82-3, $253,500; Irving, '83-4, $405,639; Irving, '84-5, $390,000; Mary Anderson, '85-6, $354,949; total in six seasons, $2,525,534.

ITEMS.

Another seam of excellent coal, eight feet thick and of an excellent quality has been struck at the Shamokin Neilsson shaft at a depth of 720 feet. Gangways will at once be opened, and the completion of the large breaker which is now partially erected will be hastened. When the mine is fully opened 1,000 hands will find employment.

The new breaker at Alaska shaft, near Mt. Carmel, is rapidly approaching completion, and will be ready for the shipment of coal by the first of December. Seven hundred hands will be given employment. Seventy-five thousand dollars have been expended in improving Park No. 1 Colliery. New machinery has been added, and when the mine again resumes full-handed the shipment will be doubled.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1886.

Chauncey F. Black meets with an ovation wherever he goes.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF COLUMBIA COUNTY.

I urge upon you the necessity of doing your utmost for the election of the Democratic ticket on Tuesday next. The outlook is most auspicious. Our candidates and the State Committee are confident of success.

There is every sign of encouragement. The administrations of President Cleveland and Gov. Pattison have inspired confidence in the policy of our party.

The people are awake to the issues which confront them.

The farmer is anxious for the enforcement of the provision of our Constitution relating to the great Common Carrier Companies of the State; and the proper amendment of our tax laws. While labor, restless, sometimes turbulent, is honestly endeavoring, by organization and intelligent action, both to promote its own good and to prevent violations of the public peace.

Our candidates are gentlemen of honor and integrity, and recommend themselves to the popular judgment. Besides, there is another motive which should prompt you to effort. The number of delegates which your respective districts will be entitled to in the County Convention, will depend upon your vote for governor. Will your district gain a delegate or lose one?

Go to the polls and see that your neighbor goes, look after the aged, infirm and indifferent voter and provide suitable means to take all such to the polls. See that every Democratic vote is polled, and win we will.

ROB'T R. LITTLE.
Chairman.

SENATORIAL.

At the time of this writing there has not been any conclusion reached by the Senatorial Conference of this District. And it is not possible to pronounce what the conclusion will be, but we desire to call attention to some facts with which we desire the Democracy of not only Columbia county, but of the district and State to be informed.

We may say in passing that in presenting the name of Col. Freeze as the candidate, we have selected a lawyer of distinction, a writer of note, a democrat who is known over the state, and who for forty years has with voice and pen devoted himself to the party success—a man whose age, character and acquirements abundantly fit him for the place.

But Columbia county shows herself, in other respects entitled to recognition in this senatorial contest, and will be fully justified in insisting upon her right.

The present Senatorial district was formed in 1871, and in the election that followed in 1872, the vote was as here given:

	Chalfant.	Ransom.	Maj.
Columbia,	3878	2003	1875
Lycoming,	4964	4518	446
Montour,	1701	1305	396
Sullivan,	767	394	373

Thus electing Mr. Chalfant of Montour, and Columbia county giving a larger majority than the others combined.

In 1875, the figures and candidates are these:

	Allen.	Lyon.	Maj.
Columbia,	3864	1534	2330
Lycoming,	5283	2919	2364
Montour,	1422	898	524
Sullivan,	746	365	381

Thus electing Mr. Allen of Lycoming by a large majority.

In 1876 the election was as follows:

	Allen.	Steck.	Maj.
Columbia,	4412	2058	2354
Lycoming,	5557	4667	890
Montour,	1729	1184	545
Sullivan,	908	502	406

Thus again electing Mr. Allen of Lycoming, Columbia county giving more majority than all the others combined.

In 1878 the election was as follows:

	Jackson.	Beaver.	Herdic.	Smith.	Maj.
Columbia	3240	1271	1152	95	721
Lycoming,	4865	3238	2024	37
Montour,	1241	885	490
Sullivan,	718	336	333		49

Lycoming gave a republican majority of 434, and Montour one of 134. But Mr. Jackson of Sullivan was elected.

Mr. Jackson having died, an election was held in 1880.

	McHenry.	Andrews	Maj.
Columbia,	4637	2139	2498
Lycoming,	6386	5013	1373
Montour,	1832	1250	582
Sullivan,	1050	635	415

McHenry of Columbia county was elected.

In 1882 the following was the vote and result.

	W. W. Hart.
Columbia,	3958
Lycoming,	4510	No opposition.
Montour,	1723
Sullivan,	779

Mr. Hart of Lycoming was elected.

It thus appears, that since the erection of this district in 1871, to-wit: during fourteen years, Lycoming county has had the Senator for seven years. Montour has had him for three years, Sullivan county for two years, and Columbia county for two years. In other words, Lycoming has had two full terms, Montour has had one full term, and Sullivan has had half a term, and Columbia half a term.

Any candid man examining these facts and figures must admit the paramount claims of Columbia county, and her right to be heard.

LATER.

The Senatorial Conference met at Muncy on Monday night. After the total number of ballots reached 600 an adjournment was made to Tuesday morning. Balloting was continued until about 3 p. m. when Verus H. Metzger of Lycoming was nominated on the 667th ballot the vote standing as follows: Freeze, 4 votes, Columbia and Sullivan, Metzger, 4 votes, Lycoming and Montour, whereupon M. J. Phillips of Sullivan changed his vote to Metzger and made his nomination. A motion was made to make the nomination unanimous, and Mr. Jackson requested the mover to withdraw the motion which was declined. A vote was taken and Mr. Jackson who was voting two votes for Columbia county in Mr. Barkley's absence, voted no. In this action he will be sustained by the Democracy of this county. Lycoming has had more than its full share and was not entitled to the state senator. Such however, is modern politics.

Daniel W. Lewis of Lycoming county has been nominated for state senator by the Republicans of this district.

The formal resignation of Mr. S. S. Cox, minister to Turkey, has been received at the department of State.

Maurice Lundy of Williamsport has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal for this district.

Mrs. A. T. Stewart, widow of the millionaire, died suddenly at her residence in New York on Monday, aged 84 years. Most of the Stewart fortune was left to her and Judge Hilton.

There are three separate tickets to be voted next Tuesday. One is headed "State" and contains the names of all state candidates, another is headed "Judiciary" and contains the names of candidates for Associate Judges, and the third in headed "County" and contains the names of candidates for congressman-at-large, congress, senate, and all other county offices. See that you have one of each, with the names as printed in this paper, and you will vote right.

It is stated upon apparently good authority that James McParlan, the Pinkerton detective whose secret work among the Molly Maguires was the means of breaking up that murderous organization, has become entirely blind as the result of his life while engaged in that work. He is supposed to be living in the utmost privacy out in Chicago, where his name still appears upon Pinkerton's rolls, not as an active worker, however, but as one whose service entitle him to a good salary as a retired official. When giving his testimony in Schuylkill and Carbon counties he sadly admitted that the excesses which he was forced to go to in order to prosecute his investigations had almost entirely broken him down and professed his pleasure at the prospect of being relieved from the terrible strain. Insomnia in its worst form is also reported to have claimed him and sometimes he gets but four or five hours' sleep in a week. It is further said that his death is but the question of another year or two. Kerrigan, "The Squealer," is said to be living in the same city.

VERUS H. METZGER.

Verus H. Metzger, Democratic candidate for state senator, was born in Lycoming county March 25th 1859. He received his education at the public schools and Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, and Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg where he graduated in 1878. He read law with his father, Hon. John J. Metzger and in 1883 was elected District attorney of Lycoming county filling that office satisfactorily.

What the Pennsylvania Democratic Platform Says.

Fourth. That we sympathize with labor in efforts to make industrial and moral worth, not money, the true standard of individual and national greatness, and to secure to the workers the full enjoyment of the wealth they create and sufficient leisure in which to develop their intellectual and social faculties; and to this end we desire the enlargement of the bureau of the statistics, the abrogation of all the laws that do not bear equally upon capital and labor, and the prevention of the hiring out of convict labor; the adoption of measures providing for the health and safety and indemnification of injuries to those employed in mining, manufacturing and building industries; the enactment of laws by which labor organizations may be incorporated and arbitration extended and enforced, and a suitable apprensicethip act for the purpose of creating a better class of artisans and mechanics; the prohibition of the employment of children under 14 years of age in workshops, mines and factories; the strict and exact enforcement of the laws relating to "pluck me" stores and store orders and those relating to the accounting of industrial works the appointment of inspectors to carry out these provisions and a rigid enforcement of existing emigration laws to exclude pauper, contract and assisted emigration.

Fifth. That we pledge ourselves to the enforcement of Articles XVI and XVII of the State Constitution, relative to private corporations, railroads and canals, by appropriate legislation.

A Fraud Exposed.

THE ORGAN OF THE IRON WORKERS REPUDIATES A TRANSPARENT TRICK.

In the current issue of the Labor Tribune, of Pittsburg, appears the following. It is of special significance, because the Tribune is the official organ of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of the United States:

REBUKE THE FALSE PRETENSE.

In justification of the course of the Bellefonte Iron and Nail company in issuing scrip to their workmen, which is being used against Gen. James A. Beaver, the Republican candidate for Governor in this State, who is a member of that firm, there is a circular going around alleged to be issued by the workmen themselves, justifying the course of the firm in issuing the scrip —that it was at their (the workmen's) request, etc. Four of the men whose names are attached to the circular, a copy of which has been sent to every K. of L. assembly in Pennsylvania, claim to be members of the K. of L. Of this we have no knowledge, but we here assert, positively, that none of those names on the circular who claim membership in the Amalgamated Association can be found on our register. They are NOT members of the Amalgamated Association, and as that association is opposed to the payment of wages in scrip or anything else in lieu of cash, we deem it but justice to it to so state publicly, that it may not rest under the imputation these pliable tools thought of putting upon it. We believe in letting the sun shine in on the truth though the heaven's fall.

She Would Not Recognize Him.

Seventeen years ago Patrick McCoy a miner of Luzerne county, deserted his young wife and went to California. He said he would return when he made his fortune. After being gone five years, and not receiving any word from him, his wife gave him up as dead. Recently McCoy returned with a few thousand dollars in his possession and called on his wife. The latter failed to recognize him, said he was another man, and would not have anything to do with him. McCoy recalled the days of his boyhood and the date of marriage, but all to no avail. The wife says he is another man. When he went west McCoy was very spare. Now he weighs over 250. None of his friends recognize him. McCoy is heart-broken over his wife's refusal to recognize him.

The only safe and sure way seems to be to "turn the rascals out." Postmaster Harrity of Philadelphia retained a number of republican employees, and some of them purposely made mistakes that resulted in delays in the mail, or failed to deliver, to give republican organs an opportunity to criticize the management under a Democrat. If they had been turned out in the first place there would have been no occasion to find fault with Mr. Harrity's administration.

In order to make it appear that the Democratic party has no more regard for the laws prohibiting the assessment of office-holders for political purposes, than the Republican party had when in power, the organs are resorting to desperate means. On Monday the Press printed what professed to be a facsimile of a letter sent out from the office of the collector of Internal revenue at Philadelphia demanding 3 per cent of salary for campaign use. This letter turns out to be a forgery. It has come to the same unhappy end as did the story about Mr. Black's saying at Bellefonte that arrangements had been made to secure the vote of the Knights of Labor for him. The campaign liar comes to grief early this year.

A Protest Against Expensive Funerals.

The late Judge Ludlow, of Philadelphia, made his will in 1867: it is a short document, and takes up only half a page of paper. This well-known and highly honored official gives a commendable example in respect to simplicity in funeral arrangements and appointments. The will says: "I request my executors to incur at my funeral no expense not absolutely required. My estate is small, and my wife and children ought to have every dollar for their support. Let no false pride dictate ostentatious display, for after the soul departs from the body it matters little what becomes of that body so that it is decently buried. God will protect the dust, and on the Resurrection Day gather together and reconstruct it according to His sovereign right." A reform in the matter of funeral expenditures is greatly needed. Men whose social position is high are the ones to begin that reform and to give an example that will be noted by the community at large. The burial of the dead is the most inappropriate of all occasions for a vain show. Men of discretion know this, and they accordingly should introduce and establish the rule to be accepted by all that decent and appropriate burial is not burial that is accompanied by display and lavish expenditure. In England a society has been formed, with not a few of the nobility as members, in the interests of burial reform. Surely it is possible, without an organization, to create a more healthy public sentiment than now exists, and put a stop to exhibitions that violate good taste, and that contravene Christian sentiment and principle. Custom should not apparently require of any one an expenditure in behalf of the dead far beyond personal resources, neither should it permit a family, stricken with grief, to be occupied with preparations for dress that an exacting taste will pronounce comely. We cannot ask privacy at the burial of our dead, but we should not be satisfied with anything that is not simple, and sincere, and according to the law of Christ.—The Church.

The Statue of Liberty was unveiled in New York harbor Thursday.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—P. Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but give me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

NOTICE OF INQUEST.

ESTATE OF GEORGE MILLER, LATE OF NESCOPEC, LUZERNE CO., PA., DEC'D.

COLUMBIA COUNTY, SS:

Whereas, at an Orphans' Court held at Bloomsburg, in and for the county of Columbia, the twenty-seventh day of September, A. D. 1886, before the Honorable William Elwell, President, and his associates, justices of the said court, the petition of Nathan Miller, a child and heir of George Miller, late of the township of Nescopec, in the County of Luzerne, deceased was presented, setting forth that the said George Miller died intestate leaving to survive him nine children all of whom are of full age, and that their names and residences are as follows: Adam Miller Mifflin, Twp. Columbia County, Pa., William Miller Wetherly, Carbon County, Pa., John Miller Nescopec, Luzerne County, Pa. Nathan Miller Nescopeck, Luzerne County, Pa., Caroline intermarried with Jacob Savison, Wetherly, Carbon County, Pa., Polly Kishbach intermarried with John Kishbach, Mt. Pleasant Twp, Columbia County, Pa. Sallie A Whatnecht Nescopeck, Luzerne County, Pa., and Maria intermarried with Levi Kishbach Nescopeck Luzerne County, Pa., and that said decedent died seized of the following land in Columbia County, Pa., bounded and described as follows to wit: situate in Beaver Twp. Beginning at a stone corner in line of land of Benninger, thence by land of F. Crouse S. 79 deg. W. 61 three-tenths P. to small Ash tree, thence by land of Schweppenheiser N. 13 deg. W. 70 P. to stone corner, thence N. 79 deg. E. 65 two-tenths P. to stone corner, thence by Jacob Hartzel and Benninger S. 8½ deg. E. 70 P. to place of beginning containing twenty seven acres and one hundred and ten perches, about six acres cleared, balance in timber, on which is erected a frame stable. And that no partition of said land has been made.

We therefore command you that, taking with you six good and lawful men of your bailiwick, you go to and upon the premises aforesaid, and there in the presence of the parties aforesaid, by you to be warned if being warned they will be present, and having respect to the true valuation thereof, and upon the oaths and affirmations of the said six good and lawful men, you make partition to and among the heirs and legal representatives of the said intestate, in such manner, and in such proportions, as by the laws of this Commonwealth is directed, if the same can be done without prejudice to or spoiling the whole.

But if the said inquest, by you to be summoned as aforesaid to make the said partition or valuation, shall be of opinion that the premises aforesaid with the appurtenances, cannot be parted and divided among all the persons entitled thereto as required by law, without prejudice to or spoiling the whole, or that it cannot be divided into shares of equal value, then you cause the inquest to value and appraise the whole of the said real estate, or the several shares or purparts into which they may divide the said real estate, having respect to the true valuation thereof agreeably to law. And that the partition or valuation so made you distinctly and openly have before our said Justices at Bloomsburg, at an Orphans' Court, there to be held on the First Monday of December next, after such an inquest shall be made under your hand and seal, and under the hands and seals of those by whose oaths or affirmations you shall make such partition or valuation. And have you then and there this writ. WITNESS the Honorable William Elwell President Judge of our said court, the Eleventh day of October A. D. 1886.
WM. H. SNYDER, Clerk of O. C.

In accordance with the foregoing writ, notice is hereby given that an inquest will be held on the said premises on Saturday, November 6th 1886, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 p. m.
SAMUEL SMITH, Sheriff.

RAW BONE MANURE

AMMONIA possesses peculiar fertilizing properties and fulfils a very important part in a manure, which, without it, would lack that element most needed to sustain plant life.

PHOSPHORIC ACID is an indispensable constituent of all good lands. The soil furnishes plants with Phosphoric Acid and they in turn yield it to animals, to be used in formation of their bones.

No fertilizer is more valuable in its effects than one which contains Ammonia and Phosphoric Acid derived from Animal Bone Base. The base of

BAUGH'S

According to the published financial statements the amount of money on deposit in the National banks of Williamsport and the entire West Branch valley, foots up a total of over four million of dollars, Williamsport alone having over two millions. This money represents the wealth and savings of the people and shows that they are prosperous and thrifty.

We are sorry to disappoint our little lady friend who writes us from Orangeville concerning the visit of four young ladies of that village on Sunday last. As her letter contains the names of others, but is not signed by her own, we must do as we always do, and decline to print it. We now repeat for the several thousandth time that all communications must be signed by the writer.

The State Department at Harrisburg has granted a charter to the Williamsport and Northeastern Railroad Company, with an authorized capital of $100,000. A similar corporation, styled the Binghamton and Southwestern Railroad Company, has already been chartered in the State of New York, and the two will join together as the Williamsport and Binghamton Railroad Company. It is intended to begin the survey immediately. In the meantime arrangements for the commencement of work upon the road-bed will be made.

Charles S. Wolfe, Prohibition candidate for Governor, made a speech at the Opera House last Thursday afternoon. About 300 people were present. Mr. Wolfe is a good talker and presented his side of the case in the most forcible manner possible. He claimed that the so-called prohibition plank in the Republican platform was not a declaration in favor of prohibition, but simply an evasion of responsibility by submitting the question to the people. He charged that it was not adopted in good faith, but was a trick to catch the prohibition vote. He spoke over an hour and a half and was listened to attentively throughout.

The Red Book as usual makes its appearance just when wanted, and the State edition this year abounds with statistical information of the character now most in demand. The little publication has become the standard political text-book, and not only is it of unquestioned value as an authority upon election results, but is a model of clean and most artistic typography. As of old it is sent without money and without price by inclosing stamp to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, Md.

Elisha C. Ager has been boarding at the Central Hotel for several months past. On Friday morning he did not make his appearance, and in the afternoon his room door was tried and found locked. An entrance was effected through the transom and Mr. Ager was found in bed unconscious. Medical assistance was summoned, but no relief was afforded. He died on Monday afternoon without regaining consciousness. The remains were removed to the house of his aunt, Mrs. Robbins, and from there the funeral took place on Wednesday morning. The burial was at Rohrsburg. About twenty members of Ent Post G. A. R. escorted the remains, Mr. Ager having been a soldier, and member of a Post in San Francisco. His wife was Roxanna, widow of the late Geo. S. Coleman, and she died in California some years ago, leaving one daughter who is still in California. Mr. Ager's age was about 46 years. His father Wilson Ager was telegraphed for at Minneapolis, but was unable to come on account of illness. Elisha was a member of the Episcopal church, and teacher in the Sunday school. A handsome offering was placed on the coffin by his fellow teachers.

Can He Vote?

MR. EDITOR:—I left home here in Franklin township last February for a visit to the west and remained away till June when I returned, had myself assessed, since paid my taxes, yet I am threatened with being deprived of the right of suffrage at the coming election. I have and always had my home with my parents here, being yet a single man. Can my vote be rejected?

Oct. 23, 1886. X. Y. Z.

[The law is that a voter shall have resided in the state one year; or, if having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen thereof, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then he shall have resided therein six months immediately preceding the election. His removal from the state is a question of intention. If he went away intending to make his home in another state, it would take six months to entitle him to vote on his return. If he left home on a visit, intending to return again, it matters not where he goes, nor how long he remains away, he has a right to vote the very day of his return providing his taxes are paid. In your case you are clearly entitled to vote.

Benton Meeting.

A Democratic meeting was held at Benton on Saturday afternoon. Addresses were made by Hon. C. R. Buckalew and B. F. Zarr, Esq. Delegations were present from Fairmount, Sugarloaf, Jackson and Fishingcreek. The officers of the meeting were as follows: C. B. McHenry, President; Cyrus Larish, E. J. Albertson, John C. Wenner, Peter Kase, David Yost, Charles Gibbons, John Swarthout, William Peterman, Geo. Derr, Judge Krickbaum, B. D. Cole, Daniel Young, John Baker, Henry Hirleman, Vice-Presidents; John J. Karns, John a Chapin, secretaries. The attendance was large and the speeches excellent. Benton and the upper end will do its duty next Tuesday for Black and the whole ticket.

East Benton.

Samuel Rose's barn, in Benton township, succumbed to the destructive flames last Wednesday night between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock. There seems to be quite a mania for barn burning of late. Insurance about $200.

It is said that Martin Gregory of Fairmount, whose barn was destroyed by fire a few weeks since, was so badly burned in the effort of saving a new buggy that his death is a question of only a few weeks.

Briefly stated, the Democratic meeting at Benton last Saturday afternoon was a grand rally and a large assemblage of people. Music was furnished by the Benton band and a drum corps attending nearly every four horse load delegation. The chorus was almost deafening. Chairman Little called the meeting to order and C. B. McHenry was chosen presiding officer with a long list of vice presidents. B. Frank Zarr was introduced and made a telling speech on the issues of the campaign, after which the Hon. C. R. Buckalew arose and was greeted by long and continued cheering. After the applause had subsided, Buckalew in his easy and masterly way of dealing with public questions, kept the audience spell bound for an hour. In exposing the corrupt policy of railroad discriminations and coal pool conspiracies which render the state constitution ineffective in the interests of the people, but effective in the hoarding of wealth by robbing the people, he said that corporations and monopoly owed all their unjust advantages to a Republican Legislature, as Gov. Pattison used all constitutional authority to break their power. He said that Gov. Pattison's was indeed a reform administration and deserved a continuation by the election of Chauncey F. Black. Among other things he said, that if Cleveland's administration continued to prove as successful for the balance of his term, as in the past for nearly two years the people would renominate and re-elect him, in which event if living and well he (Buckalew, in two years hence, or in 88) would again address the Democracy of Benton and vicinity, soliciting their votes for a second term for this great and fortunate man a "man of destiny," from the same lumber yard and spot where he was then speaking, and if the lumber piles were gone they would set up a few planks. He refered to Cleveland's happy marriage and retired amidst the din of music and the wild hurrahs of the multitude. We have many great men but none greater than he.

The meeting at Bendertown on Saturday night was addressed by B, Frank Zarr and representative Fritz These gentlemen are truly representative men and are well versed on the issues of the day. Owing to a meeting of, and an oyster supper by the order of the Knights of Pythias and the enlivening of the occasion by the Waterton band the Democratic meeting at the school house was not as large as it would have been under other circumstances.

Prothonotary Snyder and Sheriff Smith took in the Benton mass meeting.

John J. and Rhor McHenry feel as jubilant as though Black were already elected. We feel as good as they.

Col. and Mrs. Jamison also attended the Democratic meeting, The Col. is a railroader of the progressive order.

Centralia Church Fair.

The parish of St. Ignatius at Centralia is now under the watchful care of Rev. Jas. J. Russel, and his assistant Rev. O'Brien. The parish property consists of a large stone church, and a handsome parochial house. Both are well adapted for the purposes for which they are intended Some repairs to the church, the erection of a new wing to the parochial house, and putting in steam heat created a debt upon the congregation, and for the purpose of raising money to wipe this out Father Russell determined to hold a fair. It began in Odd Fellows Hall on September 17th, and lasted until the 25th when it closed until October 15th. It was re-opened in the school house, and continued until Saturday the 23rd. Numerous articles were disposed of on chances. Miss Cecilia Gerrity drew a five dollar gold piece, Miss Katie McDonnel drew a doll, and Miss Mary McDonnell a fancy cake on the evening of the 20th. Mr. H. J. Furgnson drew a live sheep on the 21st, and generously donated it to the fair to be chanced off again. Dr. Gwinner drew a picture of Robert Emmett on the 25th, and Charles McBrearty a toilet set. The following is a list of prizes voted for, and the names of the several candidates:

Lady's gold watch, no. 1: Maggie Barrett, Mary Langon, Bridget McHale, Mary A. Cain.

Lady's gold watch, no. 2: Mary E. McDonnell, Mary J. Purcell, Mary A. Cawley, Mary Rooney.

Lady's gold chain and locket: Anastasia Hannon, Annie Mohan, Rose E. Walsh, Anastasia Bergan.

Sewing machine: Mrs. Arthur Nash, Mrs. Bernard Reilly, Mrs. John Spring, Miss Mary A. Grant.

Small silver watch: Patrick F. J. Joice, Thomas J. Silver, Kieran Donohoe, James V. Moran, John J. Reilly, Patrick F. Divine.

Gentleman's gold watch: John J. Burke, James J. McGann, Charles Gallagher.

Safety lamp: Richard Kealy, E. C. Price.

A gold watch: H. J. Kelly, Edward Williams.

A first-class carriage. Rev. H. J. McManus, Rev. James J. Russell.

The doll "Maid of Erin:" Molly Curry, Maggie Murphy, Dolly Curran.

During the fair Father Russell published a little paper called the Chronicle, daily, which contained a good deal of spice, and stimulated the candidates to increased efforts to raise money.

The B. & S.

Under the head of "Financial Affairs" the Philadelphia Press of Monday thus speaks of the new railroad.

"Another railroad line which will develop a large portion of the State has also just been projected by a number of Philadelphia capitalists, the Bloomsburg and Sullivan, running thirty miles North from Bloomsburg, Columbia County, into the virgin wilderness of Sullivan County. The syndicate building this road own, in connection with Colonel R. Bruce Ricketts, of Wilkes-Barre, some 60,000 acres of timber land which is considered one of the best tracts now standing in this State. There are also along the line of the road iron ore and coal territory. Among the gentlemen composing the syndicate is Morton McMichael, Henry C. Gibson, E. W. Clark, Governor Hoyt, Wharton Barker, of this city; Governor Curtin, Ex-senator Buckalew and capitalists in New York. The road will practically be an extension of the Pennsylvania Schuylkill Valley, but it will not be under the control of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It will connect with the North and West Branch and the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg. The end of the line as now projected will be within a few miles of the Southern terminus of the State Line and Sullivan Railroad, which taps an extensive coal field."

Rev. Father Russell, of Centralia, recently received an autograph letter from Charles Stewart Parnell, acknowleding the receipt of £32.10, as a contribution from St. Ignatius' parish to the Parliamentary Fund.

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, October 25, 1886.

Come along! We'll stop a minute at every dress-stuff counter in the store and get a bit of a notion of things in general.

Skip the Parisian novelties. Minutes count for nothing there. If we begin to look we sha'n't get away. You know they are multitudinous, gorgeous with color and beauty. You know how bulky some of them are. See the long rows of shelving full, the piled up tops and the counters thick with lookers and heavy with chaos of wonderful things.

Southeast of the center.

Skip black. Whatever there is not-black is also black if it can be, and many stuffs besides. Take black for granted.

Southeast of the center.

Begin at the bottom. Only a minute. Can't see much in a minute. It would take us a week. And yet we shall get a notion not only of what there is here but how it comes and gets away.

This forty-foot counter is full of a hundred stuffs like these: all-wool yard-wide homespun, 25c; camel's-hair homespun, 42-inch, 37½c; cotton-warp armure with pin-stripe of silk all over, substantial and pretty, 34-inch, 37½c. How would a dear dress-stuff feel in such company?

Southeast of the center.

Right across the aisle on a longer stretch of shelves are another hundred stuffs. See these: camel's-hair twill with bouclé border, 44-inch, 60c; flannel and serge overlaid with clustering pin-stripes of bobbins and color, 44-inch, 65c; plain soft-wool large-yarn closely woven canvas, 42-inch, 50c. Cheviot large-yarn pin-stripe with mild illumination by bobbins of warmer color, 42-inch, 50c. This counter appears to be full of things at half-value or thereabouts; but it isn't the remnant and odd-lot counter. Not a remnant or odd dress-stuff here. Half-value nevertheless. We wonder as much as you.

Southeast of the center.

Next aisle southeast—English dress-cloths—We ought to skip them—Can't stop—If we should begin we'd spend the day here. Mostly $2.50, 56-inch, and rich with all sorts of richness and beauty that man has learned to put into cloths. There are plain coarse serges, 48-inch, $1.25. There are exquisite fancies, 56-inch, $3. There are many between besides the $2.50. Two-hundred in all perhaps. Let's go!

Southeast of the center.

Across the aisle to the eastward, not straight across—American dress-cloths. For want of anything clear to say of them, like the English; but that might be misunderstood. They are not; but what can we say of a hundred, no two alike and all like nothing? $1 to $2; two-thirds of the English prices.

Southeast of the center, towards Thirteenth street.

Stright across the aisle are the plaids. The word is enough.

Southeast of the center,towards Thirteenth street.

Now across the aisle are those English checks and stripes and indescribables—French fine wool serges, diagonals, ottomans, camel's-hairs, herring-bones, cheviots. Need we struggle to hang them up in the paper. You have seen them a thousand times; and you haven't. The year brings its changes even in these.

Southeast of the center, towards Chestnut street.

The cashmere counter changes less from year to year than any other perhaps. A hundred years hence, we presume, the principal item there will still be Lupin's cashmeres. There are other cashmeres. Why others? No time for reasons today. Silk-warp henriettas other than black, 40-inch, $1.25. Drap d'été, 46-inch, $2. Evening colors of numberless stuffs including cashmeres etc. This counter would be the resort for evening dress if there were no cashmeres; if there were nothing but cashmeres. Such riches of cream and the lighter shades are there! But we mustn't linger.

Northeast from the center, by the Thirteenth street door.

Flannels—They are easily looked at—did you say that? See this circling row of shelves two hundred feet long? That row is full of flannels, no two pieces alike; a dozen or twenty different sorts, and of some of the sorts too many styles to think of today. Let's go on.

North of the center.

Substantial cloths for jackets and wraps $1.25 to $6; ulster cloths $2 to $5; astrakhans $2 to $12; seal cloths $7 to $15; beavers $2.50 to $5; velveteens 50c. to $1.50; corduroys 75c and $1; besides any number of staple cloths.

By the stairway in northwest quarter.

Skip the cottons. They are never out of season, but nearer out with winter ahead. Let's skip 'em.

Northwest of the center.

We've got to the remnants

and odd lots of dress-stuffs. Twenty or thirty women are buying at once there. There isn't a stuff in the store too bright to come to this counter at last. At last? Today is at last for hundreds of remnants. Odd lots are another sort. Such a trade as this throws up odd lots by the ton. A busy counter. What makes it so? There is something against every yard of the stuffs there. No matter. Women come as fast as women go. That's the way to keep store.

Northwest of the center, by the City-hall-square door.

Snyder—Milnes.

Mr. C. C. Snyder and Miss Isabella S. Milnes were married at the residence of Mrs. Susannah Milnes in Espy on Wednesday evening of last week in the presence of nearly one hundred invited guests. The throng commenced gathering early in the evening and about 8:45, a little after the appointed time, the bride appeared leaning on the arm of the groom. She was dressed in white satin, and looked handsome. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Mallalieu, after which came the usual congratulations and the preparations for the feast. The tables were heavily laden with all the delicacies the appetite might wish for, and it was in the small hours of the morning before this pleasing part of the evening's enjoyment was over. The presents given were numerous and handsome, embracing mostly in solid silver, all the articles for table use. The happy couple left on the 11:30 train south on the following day, en route for Jacksonville, Florida, where Mr. Snyder has been located for a number of years. May success attend them in the future years.

Only Half the Battle Won.

The thousands upon thousands of people throughout our entire State suffering from malaria and indigestion would make one grand army. To such as are victims of these dreadful maladies, we say they are battling against a forlorn hope by using worthless preparations that can only render temporary relief and after all win but half the battle. Perrine's Pure Barley Malt is prepared from selected crops in the field, and its purity and palatableness is recognized by eminent physicians throughout the United States, Perrine's Barley Malt will eradicate every vestige of malaria, aid digestion and give new life to the entire system run down by overwork. Ask you. druggist for it and take the half of a wine glass full three times a day.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Constipation has many victims and the endeavor to find relief with the cathartic, the injection, the aperient and laxative are distressing. These are resorted to time and again, until the sufferer is almost in despair, and he gains only a brief respite. By taking Simmons Liver Regulator, the bowels will be gently moved as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine will soon effect a permanent relief.

The world moves.—Our grandmothers used brown sugar, we use white; they used common brown soap, we use white soap. The best white soap is Dreydopel's Borax Soap, which can be used for all purposes to which soap is applicable. oct 22 4t

No lady should live in perpetual fear, and suffer from the more serious troubles that so often appear, when Dr. Kilmer's Complete Female Remedy is certain to prevent and cure tumor and cancer there.

TO PRESERVE NATURAL FLOWERS.—Dip the flowers in melted paraffine, withdrawing them quickly. The liquid should be only just hot enough to maintain its fluidity and the flowers should be dipped one at a time, held by the stocks and moved about for an instant to get rid of air bubbles. Fresh cut flowers, free from moisture, make excellent specimens in this way. If you would preserve your health and invigorate your entire system use Perrine's Pure Barley Malt Whiskey. The Old Way and the New.

THE OLD WAY—Rock the baby in a sap-trough, carry it to town in a potato basket, give it salts and senna for a physic, wash it with soft soap and water; when sick dose it to death with harsh medicines, and then say: "The Lord claimed it." THE NEW WAY—Use Dr. Hand's Remedies for Children, which have been tested in his practice for 15 years. They are pure, safe, and a God-send to parents and children. Dr. Hand's remedies are: Teething Lotion, a wonderfully soothing and harmless lotion to bathe the gums of teething babes. Colic Cure, promptly relieves colic and soothes cross babes without stupefying them. Pleasant Physic, for children and adults, cures constipation. Worm Elixir, which is combined with a purge. Cough and Croup Medicine, has no superior in its line. Diarrhœa Mixture, cures when everything else fails. General Tonic, gives tone and appetite to weakly children. Chafing Powder, heals sore and chafed babies in a day. Price of each, only 25 cts. For sale by C. A. Kleim, druggist.

The Cocaine Habit

THE WORST SLAVERY KNOWN—NEW REVELATIONS OF POWER.

Cincinnati Times-Star.

When cocaine was discovered the medical world exclaimed "thank heaven!"

But useful as it is, it is also dangerous, especially when its use is perverted from the deadening of pain for surgical operations, to the stimulation and destruction of the human body. Its first effects are soothing and captivating, but the thralldom is the most horrible slavery known to humanity.

J. L. Stephens, M. D., of Lebanon, O., was interviewed by our reporter yesterday at the Grand Hotel, and during the conversation the doctor said: "The cocaine habit is a thousand times worse than the morphine and opium habits, and you would be astonished," he said, "if you knew how frightfully the habit is increasing."

"What are its effects?"

"It is the worst constitution wrecker ever known. It ruins the liver and kidneys in half a year, and when this work is done, the strongest constitution soon succumbs."

"Do you know of Dr. Underhill's case here in Cincinnati?"

"That leading physician who became a victim of the cocaine habit? Yes. His case was a very sad one, but the habit can be cured. I have rescued many a man from a worse condition."

"What, worse than Dr. Underhill's?"

"Indeed, sir, far so. Justin M. Hall A. M., M. D., president of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and a famed practitioner, and Alexander Neil, M. D. professor of surgery in the Columbus Medical College, and president of the Academy of Medicine, a man widely known, Rev. W. P. Clancey of Indianapolis, Ind., from personal experience in opium eating, etc., can tell you of the kind of success our form of treatment wins, and so can H. C. Wilson, formerly of Cincinnati, who is now associated with me."

"Would you mind letting our readers into the secret of your methods?"

"Well, young man, you surely have a good bit of assurance to ask a man to give his business away to the public; but I won't wholly disappoint you. I have treated over 20,000 patients. In common with many eminent physicians, I, for years made a close study of the effects of the habits on the system and the organs which they most severely attack. Dr. Hall, Dr. Neil and Mr. Wilson, whom I have mentioned, and hundreds of others, equally as expert, made many similar experiments on their own behalf. We each found that these drugs worked most destructively in the kidneys and liver; in fact finally destroyed them. It was then apparent that no cure could be effected until those organs could be restored to health. We recently exhausted the entire range of medical science, experimenting with all known remedies for these organs, and as the result of these close investigations we all substantially agreed, though following different lines of inquiry, that the most reliable, scientific preparation, was Warner's safe cure. This was the second point in the discovery. The third was our own private form of treatment, which, of course, we do not divulge to the public. Every case that we have treated first with Warner's safe cure, then with our own private treatment, and followed up again with Warner's safe cure for a few weeks, has been successful. These habits can't be cured without using it, because the habit is nourished and sustained in the liver and kidneys. The habit can be kept up in moderation, however, if free use also be made, at the same time, of that great remedy."

"Yes, it is a world famed and justly celebrated specific! Like many other physicians, I used to deride the claims made for it, but I know now for a fact that it is the world's greatest blessing, having sovereign power over hitherto incurable diseases of the kidneys and liver, and when I have said that, young man, I have said nearly everything, for most diseases originate in, or are aggravated by, a depraved condition of the kidneys."

"People do not realize this, because, singular as it may seem, the kidneys may be in a very advanced stage of decomposition, and yet owing to the fact that there are but few nerves of sensation in them the subject will not experience much pain therein. On this account thousands of people die every year of kidney disease unknowingly. They have so called disorders of the head, of the heart and lungs and stomach, and treat them in vain, for the real cause of their misery is deranged kidneys and if they were restored to health the other disorders would soon disappear."

Dr. Stephens's experience, that can be confirmed by many thousands whom he has treated, adds only more emphasis to the experience of many hundreds of thousands all over the world, that the remedy he refers to is without any doubt the most beneficent discovery ever given to humanity.

Enormous Beer Consumption.

Consul Tanner, of Chemnitz, reports to the Secretary of State that the beer production of Germany in 1885 was 1,100,000,000, gallons, enough "to form a lake more than a mile square and six and a half feet deep, or it would make a running stream as large as some of our rivers." He says the consumption of intoxicants in Germany per head is four times as great as in the United States, yet there are a thousand helpless drunkards in the United States to ten in Germany. The difference arises largely, he says, if not entirely, from the manner of drinking in vogue in the two countries.

"This science of drinking," he writes, "consists simply in the tardiness of drinking. All drinks are taken sip by sip, a half or three-quarters of an hour being consumed for a glass of beer. This is so ample that one is liable to ridicule for laying stress upon it, and yet upon this one point hinges, in my opinion, a question of vast importance to Americans.

"By this manner of drinking the blood is aroused to greater activity in so gradual a manner that there is no violent derangement of the animal economy. By slow drinking the German accomplishes the object of drinking, and gives his animal economy a chance to say 'Hold! enough!' which only slow drinking will do."

Mr. Tanner says that since his arrival in Germany, he has his "first glass of water to see drank."

A female of an uncertain age was asked by a census taker:

"How old are you, madam?"

"Thirty years," she replied.

"That's what you told me last census, ten years ago."

"Well, I'm not one of the kind of women to tell one story one time and another story another."—Texas Siftings.

BRIGHT SAYINGS OF YOUNG PEOPLE.

"Papa," said a little sick Twenty-third ward girl, whose father had brought her a drink; "papa, can't you get some fresh water? This tastes withered."—New York Mercury.

Bright little 6-year-old girl in a town near by, who was to give a party, remarked to her father on the morning of the eventful day that she thought the children must all be coming, for she hadn't received any "regreterations."—Cortland Standard.

A little 5-year-old boy named Webster, from Springfield, visited his mother, who is ill at the Massachusetts General hospital, and after gazing wonderingly around remarked: "This is the funniest hotel I ever saw; something seems to ail everybody here.—Boston Globe.

In Miss Edith's school, the other day, the reading lesson contained some reference to "a ferocious Gaul," and, desiring to have the expression fully understood, she asked its meaning. There was a moment's silence, when a bright boy arose and responded: "Please, ma'am, it means a terrible lot of cheek."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

A little 5-year-old boy rushed in one day and said to his sister: "I saw a boy steal a crabapple from a basket down town." She said: "What will be done with him?" He coolly replied: "Nothing as I can see. No one knows it but me and God. I shan't tell of him, but he will get a hard time with God when he dies."—Christian Advocate.

Bobby—Ma, you don't want me to play with wicked boys, do you? Mother—No, indeed, Bobby. Bobby—Well, if one little boy kicks another little boy, isn't it wicked for him to kick him back? Mother—Yes, Bobby, very wicked. Bobby—Then I don't play with Tommy White any more. He's too wicked. I kicked him this morning, and he kicked me back.—Harper's Bazar.

There was a baby born in a little suburban neighborhood to the north of the city lately, and considerable curiosity was manifested in the new comer by a small group of boys, ranging in years from 8 to 12, who constituted the entire boy population of the neighborhood. "Is it a boy?" one of the 8-year-olds asked. "Yes." "Good enough. When he grows up he can belong to our baseball club, and by'n by there'll be another baby around here somewhere, and pretty soon we'll have a nine!"—Boston Record.

Nib's real name is Nathaniel. He is an ardent temperance worker, and is as active in the good cause as if he were 50 instead of 5. He belongs to a society which he calls the "Band o' Dope," and he has taken an iron-clad pledge against almost everything. He was playing about on the floor one day when his sister said: "Nib, I'm writing to grandma. What shall I tell her for you?" That grandma is a particularly saintly old lady, and Nib put down his toy wagon, and, after pondering for a moment, answered impressively: "Tell grandma to remember and be good, and not to use tobacco in any of its forms."—Boston Record.

MUSICAL NOTES.

Jinny Lind is 65.

The rehearsals for Verdi's "Othello" have commenced at Milan.

Joachim was at one time the leading violin in Liszt's Weimar orchestra.

Miss Emma Thursby will shortly leave for a lenthened tour in Australia.

Rubenstein, it is said, will not undertake any tours as a pianist this season.

Uncle Tom's Cabin has been turned into an opera. John Gilbert's company is to sing it.

Herr Wachtel, the once famous German tenor, is suffering from enlargement of the heart and dropsy.

William Hamilton, the baritone, has left James Duff's Opera company and joined the American Opera in New York.

An amateur once asked Liszt how to play the piano with soul. The genial master replied, "You must first of all have the soul."

Miss Louise Parker, the leading singer of Colonel McCaull's company, is accompanied by her father and her younger sister in all her travels.

Mme. Helen Hastretter, who was in the American Opera company last year, has joined Mapleson and is singing with his company in Ireland.

Miss Davenport introduces some pretty music in "Much Ado About Nothing," and employs a quartette of accomplished singers to execute it with proper effect.

Coravan Dam, aged 11 years, the wonderful pupil of Prof. Julian, is singing in church concerts, and astonishes the people of Chicago. She has a range of three octaves.

M. Audran, the composer of "La Mascotte," has written a new comic opera, entitled "Indiana," which is soon to be brought out at the Avenue theatre in London, under his personal superintendence.

Col. Higginson, the originator of the Boston symphony concerts, has never yet succeeded in making them sustain themselves. The season of 1885-86, it is stated, resulted in a loss of more than $10,000.

Mlle. Luisa Simi, who appears in the list of sopranos of the new Italian Opera company which is soon to make its appearance in New York, is the Italian for Miss Hattie Louise Simms, who is well known as a concert singer.

There have been two additions to the list of principal artists of the American Opera company—Miss Jessie Bartlett Davis, who was with the company last season, and Mr. Victor Daugan, a basso cantante, with a rich voice and fine stage presence.

ABOUT BABIES.

A woman of Irving, Minn., wrapped a shawl so closely around her baby to keep it warm that she smothered it.

A lady in Waterford, N. Y., discovered a child about 6 weeks old in a sachel floating in the canal. It was not dead, and was soon resuscitated.

Mrs. Henry Hoover, of Polo, paid a visit to a neighbor, leaving her 6-months-old infant alone at home, tied in a rocking chair, near the stove. When she returned she found the child burned to death and the chair in flames.

Recently a babe was born to Mrs. Samuel Wilson, at Buchanan, Mich. The next night Mr. Wilson thought the child was thirsty, and undertook to give it a drink of water. The babe was strangled through his kind attentions.

A child 2 years old fell into a twenty-foot well, at Mount Stirling, Ills., and was drowning in four feet of water. Its mother let herself down by the well rope, got a good grip on her little one's clothing with her teeth, climbed out again, aided by the stone curbing and the rope, restored the child to consciousness, and then fainted dead away.

The smallest baby in Connecticut is a New York state youngster, born two months ago at Long Lake, in the Adirondacks. She is the child of David K. and Emily P. Mix, who are visiting in New Haven, and weighs two and a half pounds. She is well formed, sound of lung and appetite, is thirteen inches long, her wrist is seven-eighths of an inch in circumference, her hand is one inch across the back, her ankles an inch and a quarter in circumference and her foot is an inch and a quarter long.

CHURCH NOTES.

The next Baptist congress will be held at Baltimore, Md., Nov. 16.

According to the latest statistics the Baptist church in Germany numbers 169 congregations, 152 chapels, 1,282 preaching stations and 32,244 members.

The last Sabbath in October has been designated as Children's Thanksgiving day for the missionaries of the American Sunday School union by Secretary Crowell.

A curious story comes from China to the effect that the massacre of native Christians in Chun-Khing was due entirely to popular indignation aroused by the Catholic bishop, who persistently used yellow tiles in the construction of his new cathedral. This outraged native faith by making common use of a color venerated as sacred.

The Catholic Review gives some interesting statistics of Catholic missions in China, Japan and India. It says there are in China, including Annam, Thibet, Corea and the other border dependencies, 483,403 Catholics, 2,429 churches and chapels, 471 European and Chinese priests, 1,779 schools with 25,219 and 33 seminaries with 654 ecclesiastical students.

SOME OLD LADIES.

Mrs. Eleanor Moore died in Georgetown, Me., a few days ago, having lived five days more than 100 years. Three children, fifteen grandchildren, twenty-eight great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild survive her.

Mrs. Clarissa Cox, of Wakefield, Mass., has just celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday. She has eight children living, four of whom are over 70 years of age, twenty-five grandchildren, twenty-two great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Mary Rathsay, of Matteawan, N. Y., died in Oct. 7, in the 87th year of her age. She left five children, twenty-five grand children, fifteen great-grandchildren, twenty-five great-great-grandchildren, and one child of the fifth generation—seventy descendants still living.

ABOUT WOMEN.

Miss Kate Field is not a believer in prohibition.

Mme. Bartholdi will be the companion of her husband's trip to America.

Some of the Princess Beatrice's sketches will soon be put on exhibition in London.

A portrait of Miss Adele Grant is one of the features of the Berlin Art exhibition. Miss Grant is still in England.

Instead of painting plaques and saucers, it is now the thing for fashionable young ladies to etch and paint on wood and silk.

Miss Fortescue, who has just come across, naively remarks: "I haven't brought even a pug dog with me to be talked about."

The fortune of Mrs. Mark Hopkins is estimated at $40,000,000. It was all made by her late husband in the Central Pacific railroad.

Miss Cleveland does not think she will be able to visit the White House this winter on account of the pressure of her literary duties.

The queen of Italy is the patroness of an art exhibition to be held at Venice, to which all artists residing in Italy may send pictures.

Mrs. Ritchie (Miss Thackeray) has been taking the waters at Aix-les-Bains for a severe attack of sciatica from which she has been suffering.

Little Mary Duke, of Clanton, Ala., not yet 7 years old, has started an infant school, and charges ten cents a month for teaching little ones their A, B, Cs.

A correspondent tells of a recent ball at Macon, Ga., in which there was not a lady present who wore a shoe larger than a three, and most of them wore twos.

Lady Churchill's father still gives her an allowance of $15,000 a year, a greater part of which the lady is said to apply judiciously for election purposes in the American style.

Queen Victoria has what would, if left to itself, be red hair; but the arts of her hairdresser have prevented this fact from being apparent, and the queen's hair seems to be only "sandy."

It is reported that the divorced wife of ex-Senator Taber is living quietly at Denver, Col., and has taken such good care of the $400,000 which she got from her husband that she is now a millionaire.

A prominent society lady is said to have invented a feminine dancing shoe which is warranted to come untied at least six times every half hour. It is recommended only for those who are blessed with small feet.

A schoolmistress, teaching at Colesville, N. Y., was paid $3 a week. She went to live at the house of the trustee who had fixed the rate of pay, and she was somewhat startled to learn that he had settled upon $4 a week as the cost of her board.

Mrs. Leland Stanford devotes considerable time and money in the cause of education in California. She has put in successful operation four large kindergartens, and her latest benefaction is the establishment of a night school for the jockeys and stable boys employed in the stables of her husband.

CURIOUS FACTS.

A 10-year-old lad in Henry county, Ala., got hold of a quart bottle of whisky and drank all of it. The next day he died.

A colt near Depere, Wis., was struck by a spent rifle bullet, which passed through its body just back of its ribs. The animal went on grazing as if nothing had happened.

J. B. Wells, of Red Bluff, Cal., cut down a sound oak, and four feet from the butt, in a little cavity in the heart of the tree, were five small and healthy frogs. They were a little off in color, but all right.

A bachelor of East Grand Forks, D. T., gave a dance. Among the guests were twenty unmarried young women. During the evening the host proposed marriage to fifteen of them. They all declined with thanks.

A young man found a handbag in a carriage at Tuscola, Ills. It contained $35, and belonged to a young widow in Atwood, and when the young man returned it to her she rewarded him by marrying him the next day.

Last spring Mrs. Park, of Liberty, Mo., lost a gold ring in her garden. The other day her son pulled up a large sunflower growing there, and tightly encircling one of the roots was the ring through which the root had grown.

A 6-year-old girl in Florida dropped her kitten down a well over fifty feet deep, and at her earnest entreaty her father lowered her down by the well rope. She got the kitten out all right and was pulled up again damp, but happy.

Citizens of Sioux Falls, D. T., discovered one day that the town clock had stopped. A watchman climbed into the tower to find out what was the matter. He discovered a pigeon sitting on the inside of the gearing of the dial. The clock began marking time again as soon as the bird flew away.

A little girl in Burlington, Vt., had inherited so good a memory of an uncle whose funeral had been attended by her mother not long before this little girl's birth that she could give a full description of him, and knew his picture at once the first time she saw it.—Popular Science Monthly.

Near Zionville, Pa., one morning recently, a calf was killed. By noon the skin was at the tannery, was tanned and turned over to a shoemaker that evening, and by the next morning was made into a pair of boots, which were worn by the man who owned the calf that had worn the skin the day before.

Charles E. Caughlin and his wife, each about 75 years old, had no faith in the banks of Philadelphia, and kept the result of their years of saving in a strong box at the foot of their bed. A few days ago when Caughlin opened the box to get some money he found none: $3,892 had been stolen, and the old folks are left destitute.

A curious marriage ceremony took place recently in Nuernberg, Germany, the bride being the well known armless artiste, Fraulein Hausmann. She wedded her impressario, Herr Hauschild, and signed her marriage contract with her feet. Rings were exchanged, and the wedding ring of the bride was placed on the fourth toe of her right foot.

A young woman picking her way across the railroad tracks in Indianapolis saw a brakeman wave his hand to her from the top of a departing freight train. She smiled sweetly and waved back. The next thing she knew she was yanked off the track by a flagman, just in time to escape a backing train, which the brakeman had seen and had tried in vain to warn her of.

PECULIARITIES OF NOTED PEOPLE.

Frances Hodgson Burnett has a weakness for æsthetic clothes.

Mrs. Langtry takes a cold bath every morning, and then goes back to bed for a half hour's nap. She also practices regularly with the foils every day to keep in good form.

Roscoe Conkling wears blue plaid gaiters with barber pole stockings.

Delicately broiled trout form the principal dish on the table of the Emperor William. He eats them for dinner every day.

It is said that Mr. Edison has a penchant for chewing—a weakness in common with numerous other American citizens.

A STARTLING FACT.

It is not commonly known that a large proportion of the rheumatism and neuralgia extant is traceable directly to the diseased condition or imperfect action of the kidneys and liver; therefore a remedy which cures the resulting disease must have found and smitten the first cause. Many persons using Athlophoros for rheumatism and neuralgia have been surprised to find that chronic disorders of the liver and kidneys have also been greatly relieved and they have written for an explanation. The fact is, that the remedy acts directly on these organs, cleansing them from all irritating substances and regulating their action. Taken in connection with Athlophoros Pills this is, without exception, the most valuable kidney and liver remedy in the world, and will cure a large proportion of those who have these diseases.

Copake Iron Works, Copake, N. Y.

For the last five years I have been subject to severe attacks of rheumatism which would cause me the most excruciating pain in my chest; was obliged to put myself under the doctor's care for two or three months at a time, and even then it was almost impossible to get any relief. The last time I was taken my son was at home, and I requested him to call the doctor, but he said he had heard of a new remedy for rheumatism called Athlophoros and advised me to try it. I did and you can imagine my surprise, was relieved of all pain after taking one bottle and have not been troubled since. It saved me quite a sum of money, and what is better, I was not obliged to endure weeks of suffering; would not be without it in the house. Have recommended it to others and it never fails to give relief. L. H. PATTERSON.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled. 9

Chick-chick-er-re-kee

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.
ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

Prevents Roup, Prevents Gapes, Prevents Cholera, Prevents Egg-Eating. Prevents Laying Soft Eggs, Makes Hens Lay.

IT IS NO POWDER. IT IS NO MEDICINE.

It Sells for Five Cents Per Pound, in Boxes.

Chick-chick-er-re-kee (poultry food and preventive of disease for poultry), the great egg food, produces eggs prodigiously and is good for the health of the fowling. It is the first article of its kind ever Patented in the United States, Canada and England. Try it. It costs only five cents per pound. It is no powder. Chickens will eat it. That ought to convince you that it is good. If your Grocer, Druggist, Hardware or Country Storekeeper will not get it for you, send me one dollar, and I will ship you a twenty pound box by freight, or one hundred pounds for five dollars. A large box will cost you no more freight than a small box. Attend to your poultry, if you want to make a profit out of them, just the same as you attend to your land. Unless you manure your land it will not pay you. Just so with poultry; you must give them something besides feed. They must have material to answer for grinders, and material for the egg. If you feed Chick-chick-er-re-kee (egg food) every day you will never have any sick chickens, and your hens will lay eggs when otherwise they would not. You will never do without it after a fair trial. Do not pay twenty-five or fifty cents a pound for medicine to feed your poultry when you can get a better article from your storekeeper at five cents a pound. Don't be a clam; try it. D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last 5 years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath. My sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts from unsolicited testimonials, all of recent date:

Oliver V. R. Holmes, San Jose, Cal., writes: "I find the remedy all and even more than represented. I receive instantaneous relief."

E. M. Carson, A. M., Warren, Kansas, writes: "Was treated by eminent physicians of this country and Germany; tried the climate of different states—nothing afforded relief like your preparation."

T. E. Gates, County Treasurer, Philadelphia, Miss., writes: "Have used the Remedy. Would not live without it. Every one that uses it recommends it."

L. B. Phelps, P. M., Griggs, Ohio, writes: "Suffered with asthma 40 years. Your medicine in 3 minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years."

H. C. Plimpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: "Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be the most valuable medicine I have ever tried."

Geo. W. Brady, Nelson Co., Ky., writes: "I am using the remedy. Gained 8 pounds in 3 weeks. Would not be without it."

Martin Fox, Little Falls, N. Y., writes: "Find Remedy excellent. Could not live without it."

We have many other hearty testimonials of cure or relief, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the value of the Remedy we will send to any address TRIAL PACKAGE FREE OF CHARGE. Address,

She Strove to Make Him Happy.

Mrs. Yerger was dressed to go to the ball. She had on her new dress.

"You look stunning in that new dress, but, great Cæsar! what a lot of money it costs these hard times," remarked Col. Yerger.

"Lor', Charles, what do I care for money when it comes to making you happy," replied Mrs. Yerger with a beaming smile.—Texas Siftings.

John W. Mackay is educating his sons in Europe.

Cardinal Newman has recovered from his recent sickness.

The Hon. George Bancroft will spend the winter in Washington.

Gen. Lafayette is to be honored in the renaming of Bedloe's island.

James C. Flood has just finished a $2,000,000 dwelling house in San Francisco.

Ex-Congressman Belford is leading an independent Republican revolt in Colorado.

The Armour Brothers, of Chicago, have founded in that city a mission church and school.

Lord Hartington and Earl Rosebery will leave England in November to make a tour of India.

Michael Davitt is to reach Boston on Christmas eve, and is to be honored with a public reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackay never write letters to each other. They use the telegraph and the cable altogether.

A prominent physician says that John Roach has a cancer in his throat similar to that of Gen. Grant.

Phillips Brooks recently spoke of his brother clergyman, Cyrus A. Bartol, as "a dear, moth eaten angel."

Sunset Cox says he has written two books while abroad, but does not think he will publish either of them as yet.

Admiral Porter is so far recovered as to be able to sit up in his room, and it is expected that he will resume his duties shortly.

Secretary Manning's health is in such a state that it is extremely doubtful if he will be able to resume the cares of office again.

Darwin is the authority for the statement that man is the only animal in creation which maltreats its mate or female of its own kind.

Hamilton Fish, at the age of 79, is still hale and vigorous, in spite of the slight stroke of paralysis which he received some time ago.

A Chicago paper says that Walker Blaine is not going to reside in that city permanently, but will take up his residence at the capital shortly.

Col. J. B. Batchelder is the recipient of an odd gift from Massachusetts veterans—a cannon made of shot and shell gathered on Gettysburg battle ground.

Autograph hunters are annoying Henry George. But he deserves his fate. He claims to have a collection of over 30,000 signatures of his fellow-citizens.

Louis T. Rebisso, of Cincinnati, has submitted his model of the Grant monument designed for the city of Chicago, and a favorable judgment has been passed upon it.

Gen. Cassius M. Clay met one of his own daughters the other day in Richmond, and did not know her. His wife and both daughters left him some years ago, after he returned from Russia.

Professor D. P. Todd, of Amherst college, was badly injured by being thrown from a carriage. By a curious coincidence he had the same morning taken out an accident insurance policy.

J. McNeill Whistler says that he is coming over to this side of the world in order to favor us with his "Ten O'clock" talks. "One cannot continually disappoint a continent," writes this eccentric man of art.

Francis K. Pendleton, a son of Minister Pendleton, denies that his father intends to resign. His father's health, he says, is good, and he proposes to stay in Berlin, a city of which he has grown very fond.

A son of John Brown, who owns a large vineyard at Put-in-Bay, is such a radical temperance man that he will not sell a pound of grapes to be made into wine, and he always votes the straight Republican ticket.

Ben Butler declines to be interviewed on the political outlook in Massachusetts. When asked what he thought of the prospects of John F. Andrews' canvass, he replied that unless all signs failed it would certainly snow before spring.

It is told in The Boston Budget that the last time Mlle. Rhea was in Washington, Secretary Lamar called on her, and on his calling his identity to her remembrance she exclaimed: "Oh, yes! You are zee grand senator with zee Roman name. You are—ah! yes! You are Senator Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamaribus!"

LABOR NOTES.

Grand Master Workman Powderly is a devout Roman Catholic, and attends mass regularly.

The tin plate works of South Wales are closed, throwing out of employment 4,000 workmen.

The Rochester Lumber company, of Pittsburg, intends to give $4,000 in prizes to its employes who make the highest wages during the year.

The steel melting department of the Disston Saw works will be removed from Philadelphia to Pittsburg shortly, as greater facilities can be had there on account of the natural gas.

Mr. Powderly said the other day, at Richmond, that he was very well satisfied with the action of the assembly in extending the term of general master workman to two years.

The output of a Swiss watchmaker is forty watches a year; of a United States mechanic 150, and the American earns in his skilled line of labor three times as much as his Swiss competitor.

The number of assemblies of the Knights of Labor organized from July 1, 1885, to June 30, 1886, was more than the aggregate number organized during the previous sixteen years of the order's existence.

Four hundred people boycotted the Grand Ledge, Mich., postoffice because it was removed from the business center of the town. The department at Washington has ordered the postmaster to go back to a central location.
